There was an attempt made last night to commit an awful crime against life and property in this city of East Liverpool, and if the perpetrators thereof are discovered, they will stand a good chance of being retired behind prison bars for the remainder of their natural or unnatural lives.

There are bad men and bad women in this city of East Liverpool, and in their malice and hatred of William G. Huckle, as the representative of law and order and of the minister's and good citizen's league, they are prepared to do almost any vile act, in order to avoid exposure before the community. It might have been expected that some of the vile creatures, or their hired tools, would in some manner attack William G. Huckle, possibly in some unfrequented place or alley way, as he was making his way home, at almost any hour of the night, as is his custom in his work, as he fears nothing in human form, and is always prepared to defend himself in such a way as is very apt to cause sorrow and suffering to his assailants. But it was not believed that we have in our midst fiends in human form, devils who would attempt to cremate an innocent woman and innocent little children. And yet that is just what they attempted last night.

William G. Huckle and his wife were in attendance upon the good citizens' committee last night, accompanied by other good and true witnesses, said witnesses making affidavits which appear in today's News Review, affidavits which show up in her true light the notorious Ann Houser, and which knocks out completely the assertions made by her and by an irresponsible sheet in this city, where it is implied that William G. Huckle has been a vile and bad man, and the bitter enemy of the said Ann Houser, ever since his arrival upon the scene of action in East Liverpool.

After leaving the committee headquarters, Mr. Huckle and his wife, accompanied by two friends, went to the Epworth league meeting at the First M. E. church, remaining there in converse with friends until almost 10 o'clock, and then departed for home, the two friends spoken of before accompanying them. After the party left the church, it was noticed that two men were watching the members very closely, and acting in a very suspicious manner. These two men may be found, and they will then be compelled to give an account of their whereabouts and actions during the remainder of the night.

Mr. Huckle and family retired at their home at about 11 o'clock. Near the hour of 1 o'clock this morning,

Mrs. Huckle, who was nervous and wakeful, heard something like the striking of a match, evidently near the kitchen or rear door of their residence. Quietly awaking her husband, she made him acquainted with her suspicions and fears, and the very next moment the same suspicious noise was heard again. Always ready for such emergencies, the detective grasped his revolver and sprang to the door, turning the key with a rapid movement and with the same rapidity throwing open the door, catching a full view of two fleeing forms in the shape of men, one of the scoundrels dodging in the alley to the left of the corner of the house and racing, coward like and evidently almost scared to death, out into the alley in front of the residence and away into the darkness. The second would-be murderer was blocked from the exit made by his companion in evil and crime, and was compelled to turn to the right, in a pathway leading through the yard of the residence of a neighbor and having its exit on College street. This miserable wretch was under fire, and three bullets were sent pattering after his cowardly and inhuman carcass. It is feared that he was not struck, owing to the darkness and hurried aim of Mr. Huckle. The fellow escaped, and then the detective commenced an examination of his premises. Back of the kitchen door is a small shed, erected and sold to the present owner by a former occupant of the house. In this shed were a number of empty baskets and some planed lumber, the latter material sawed into short lengths by Mr. Huckle, who is something of a mechanic, and who devoted part of his time, when first coming to East Liverpool, in the manufacture and sale of neat wash benches. Leading from this rude workshop to the kitchen are several steps, and under these steps were placed a number of empty baskets and upon these baskets a number of short boards were placed, conveyed from where they had been in the workshop the evening previous, by the unhung scoundrels who were engaged in such awful crime. These baskets and boards had then been saturated with carbon oil, and the instruments of death awaited the match of the incendiary. It looks as if the hand of Him who never slumbers or sleeps, and who has all good and true humanity under His watchful care and keeping, now interposed and saved William G. Huckle, his wife and two handsome little boys. Surely the hand of the Master saved these people from an awful death.

Detective Huckle left his wife on guard at the home, and started for the house of a trusted friend. Reaching his residence he routed him out of bed, was admitted to the house and a consultation was held, the detective asserting that his proper course was to go to the mayor's office and secure the services of a policeman and have him placed on duty for the remainder of the night at the scene of the awful crime. The friend argued against this, fearing that an attempt might be made upon the detective's life while enroute to city hall, provided Mr. Huckle with an additional trusty revolver, and the latter returned to his home, where he kept watch and ward until this morning, and also, at the suggestion of his friend already spoken of, kept silence respecting the attempt upon life and property.

This evening, in company with men who mean business and who cannot be intimidated by ruffians, outlaws, incendiaries and their backers, no matter where they hail from, or in what manner they are engaged, either professionally or journalistically, Detective Huckle will call upon Mayor Gilbert, who has assured him that he shall have ample protection while engaged in acting within the law and in the enforcement of the same, as becomes any true and good citizen.

As has been said editorially in the News Review of today, if Detective Huckle is a bad man and engaged in foul and illegal practices, then he should be punished and the punishment should be heavy. But it requires proof, strong and conclusive proof, to convince the committee in charge of affairs that he is a bad man, and the men who represent the committee are not to be misled by petty subterfuge or mere assertions. If, on the contrary, there can be no such solid proof brought forth, by competent and trustworthy citizens, then the men and women who have arrayed themselves against law-abiding citizens, are transgressors against the majesty of the law, and when they commit any overt or disorderly act against the person of the said William G. Huckle, by word or act, then they should and shall be punished.

As for the murderous and vile action of last night, every decent man and woman in the community, every right thinking and law-abiding citizen, will condemn it with hot and righteous condemnation, and earnestly pray that the cowardly perpetrators may be brought before the bar of justice and given a life term in the penitentiary.

A BIG RUSH.

The Seats For the Elk's Benefit Were Soon Sold.

The rush for seats for the Elk's Benefit, which will be given at the Grand tonight, was something immense. As soon as the chart opened, everybody began to push and in 15 minutes every seat downstairs was sold and in less than 30 minutes the chart looked as though a cyclone had struck it. About 300 tickets for the Wellsville and Lisbon guests were taken out before the chart was opened in this city. The small boys did a land office business by charging every person who didn't want to get in line for themselves 25 and 50 cents to check their seats for them, one youth having six boys in his employ and each boy had the limited number of tickets to check. It is safe to say that no one will ever regret having spent their money to see James A. Herne's famous play, "Shore Acres."

A NARROW ESCAPE.

A Horse Frightened At a Passing Street Car Last Night.

P. T. Brown, of West Market street, had a narrow escape last night from what might have been a serious accident. He was driving along the road close to the street car track, just beyond Walker, when his horse took fright at a passing street car and commenced to jump and prance around at imminent hazard of precipitating wagon and driver over the hill, which is very steep at that point. The wagon was upset and Brown thrown out, but fortunately he escaped without any injury further than a few scratches. The contents of the wagon were scattered around in a promiscuous manner over the ground, but no further damage resulted. The car was stopped and the horse finally quieted down. Brown was a badly scared man, but gathered up his produce and drove on.

A CHILD OF MISFORTUNE.

East Liverpool Is a Bad Town For Some People.

Martin Leatherow, the man who broke his arm Monday afternoon by falling over the culvert on Mulberry street, East End, has had a very unfortunate career since he came to this city. He arrived here from Empire about a month ago, and started his list of misfortunes by losing $20. A short time after this happened he lost $12, and to cap the climax broke his arm. He says he will sue the city for not having the proper protection placed at the culvert.

ASSESSING ORDINANCES.

Property Owners Must Pay For the Improvements.

The ordinances providing for the assessments to pay for the improvement on Lincoln and Rideway avenues and Lands End street are published today, and property owners can see just what the work has cost them. The ordinances were passed at the last meeting of council, and give to the people most interested just what they must pay, and how it is to be paid.

THEY WILL NOT BE MALIGNED

By Any Man or Body of Men, or By Any Journalist or Body of Journalists, When Said Action Is Unjust, Untrue and Un- called For, As In the Present Instance, and Good Citizens Will Back the League Up.

On Sunday morning, Nov. 3, 1895, Mr. William G. Huckle, came to my home, 189 Elm street, East Liverpool, Ohio, and in the presence of my husband, Harry Palmer, requested me to accompany himself and wife to the residence of a Mrs. Ann Houser, on the Lisbon road, for the purpose of attempting to persuade her to leave the life of shame she was said to be living, and have her quietly connect herself with the church and lead the life of a true woman, for the sake of her son and of her immortal soul. This matter was to be pursued in a quiet, and unostentatious manner, and not to be made public. With the full consent of my husband, I left my home at 4 p. m. of the same day, and went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Huckle, leaving there with the two persons above mentioned at 4:30, bound for Mrs. Ann Houser's home. On the Lisbon road, near Mrs. Houser's home, we overtook Mr. B. F. Hodgson and a number of the members of the First M. E. church, the entire party then and there evidently desirous of accompanying us into Mrs. Houser's residence, as per the expression made use of by Mr. B. F. Hodgson. Mr. William G. Huckle objected to the large party going into Mrs. Houser's, until he would first prepare her or ask her permission. Our party of four, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Huckle, Mr. B. F. Hodgson and Mrs. Emma Palmer, then entered Mrs. Houser's home, where we were cordially welcomed, one of the inmates coming to the door and ushering us into the parlor, where we were introduced to and greeted by Mrs. Ann Houser. The conversation between Mrs. Houser and Mr. Huckle, in my presence, was of the most amicable and pleasant nature, without a jarring or discordant word. Mr. Huckle said to Mrs. Houser: "Well, Annie, are you still of the same mind that you were last night? Are you willing to give up the life you have been leading, right away, and live a right life?" Mrs. Houser replied: "Yes, I am." After a few minutes of pleasant conversation, in which Mrs. Houser said she would give up the house in which she now resides, and some remarks about sending her boy away to school, Mr. Hodgson informed Mrs. Houser that there were a number of good friends of her's outside the house, who were anxious to meet and greet her, and to show by their actions that they were willing and eager to help her along to a better life. Mrs. Houser at once gave her consent to the coming in of the party. After they were introduced, some one asked Mrs. Houser if they could hold a service of prayer, to which she gave an affirmative answer, and Mr. William G. Huckle called on Mr. Hodgson to lead in prayer. There were several prayers offered up and several gospel songs or hymns sung, and Mrs. Houser professed conversion and expressed a desire to join the First M. E. church of East Liverpool, on probation, and Mr. Hodgson took her name. During the entire meeting, Mrs. Houser, in word and manner, expressed the utmost confidence and kindly feeling for Mr. William G. Huckle, and shook hands cordially with him upon parting. Further, Mr. William G. Huckle asked Mrs. Houser, in my presence and hearing, if he had ever done or said anything she could object to, and she made reply, "No." Mr. Huckle then said: "Not even to my representing myself as a furniture man?" Mrs. Houser laughed and said, "I forgive you even that, and an angel of it."

The undersigned, Benjamin H. Hodgson, was present at the house of Ann Houser on Nov. 3, when Ann Houser stated in my presence, and the presence of Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Huckle and Mr. Huckle, that Mr. Huckle had neither said or done anything that anyone could object to, and on Monday, Nov. 4, I was again at Mrs. Houser's house with Mr. Huckle when Ann Houser said the same thing, and also said she felt the Lord had forgiven her, and hoped Mr. Huckle would forgive her for saying anything which would reflect discredit upon him.

Sworn to and subscribed before me, on the 20th day of Nov. 1895.

GEORGE MORLEY,
Notary Public.

We, the undersigned, and William Huckle, declare the following to be true.

On November 2, 1895, we, the above named persons, visited the house by arrangement of Ann Houser, for the purpose of inducing Mrs. Houser to discontinue her nefarious practice. We reached the house about 7 o'clock, p. m. Ann Houser answered the door, and asked us to go round to the back door, which we did. The door was opened by one of the girls kept by Ann Houser for immoral purposes. She showed us into a room at the back part of the house; the room contained five chairs, a small table, a lamp and a cuspidor. There was no carpet on the floor. After we had seated ourselves we commenced putting a few questions, resulting in the following information being given: They had no carpet on the floor, as sometimes there were a large number of gents from East Liverpool who liked to have a kick up, and sometimes they cut up rough, and if there were any carpet on the floor, or fancy things about, damage would be done, though the gents always were willing to pay for any damage they committed. Mrs. Houser, or Wilson, was not in the room at the time; she was upstairs dressing for the evening. The two girls begged and coaxed and entreated us to buy some wine—it was two dollars a bottle they said. Miss Houser afterwards said to us that it was not wine, but only soft drinks, which cost her about fifteen cents a bottle. We refused to purchase any, and after a time Annie came into the room. Mr. Huckle then told Annie he wanted to speak to her a minute, and Annie and we two went upstairs to the parlor and engaged in general conversation; a short time elapsed when one of the girls called Maggie, asked Annie to come to her, which she did. There was a man with Maggie in the passage leading into the bedrooms, and Maggie wanted a lamp, so Annie took the lamp from the parlor, leaving us in darkness. An altercation took place about the money the woman Annie demanded, Annie saying, "that is all right but that ain't my money," upon which the man replied, "I'll give the girl the other when I am ready to do so." They then went into the bedroom, Annie returning to the parlor and lighting another lamp. She told us she had the best men in the city who were her patrons; also that a man from Wellsville came frequently and was her best customer as far as paying went.

After Mr. Huckle told her who he was she flew into a temper, but afterward quieted down, and said she would give up the life. At this juncture the girl Maggie came from the bedroom, and let the man out; she came into the parlor and gave Annie two 50-cent pieces, which we suppose was the amount he agreed to pay the girl over and above the sum he at first wished to pay. The language and suggestions of the two girls before Annie came into the room was simply disgusting and revolting.

Ann Houser stated that Mr. Huckle did not in any way, or at any time, say or do anything of an objectionable character, and thanked Mr. Huckle most heartily for his kindness to her, and asked him to bring his wife up to see her, which Mr. Huckle has since done.

HIGH TIME FOR LAW'S ENFORCEMENT

Wicked Men and Vile Women, Backed By Sensational and Irresponsible Statements Made By Vile and Irresponsible Parties, Cause An Attempt To Be Made To Cremate William G. Huckle, His Wife and Innocent Little Children—The Scoundrels Defeated In Their Endeavor. Bullets Sent Them Scurrying Like a Pair of Coyote Wolves or Grave Robbing Hyenas—Turn on the Light.

There was an attempt made last night to commit an awful crime against life and property in this city of East Liverpool, and if the perpetrators thereof are discovered, they will stand a good chance of being retired behind prison bars for the remainder of their natural or unnatural lives.

THEY WILL NOT BE MALIGNED

By Any Man or Body of Men, or By Any Journalist or Body of Journalists, When Said Action Is Unjust, Untrue and Uncalled For, As In the Present Instance, and Good Citizens Will Back the League Up.

On Sunday morning, Nov. 3, 1895, Mr. William G. Huckle, came to my home, 189 Elm street, East Liverpool, Ohio, and in the presence of my husband, Harry Palmer, requested me to accompany myself and wife to the residence of a Mrs. Ann Houser, on the Lisbon road, for the purpose of attempting to persuade her to leave the life of shame she was said to be living, and have her quietly connect herself with the church and lead the life of a true woman, for the sake of her son and of her immortal soul. This matter was to be pursued in a quiet and unostentatious manner, and not to be made public. With the full consent of my husband, I left my home at 4 p. m. of the same day, and went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. William G. Huckle, leaving there with the two persons above mentioned at 4:30, bound for Mrs. Ann Houser's home. On the Lisbon road, near Mrs. Houser's home, we overtook Mr. B. F. Hodgson and a number of the members of the First M. E. church, the entire party then and there evidently desirous of accompanying us into Mrs. Houser's residence, as per the expression made use of by Mr. B. F. Hodgson. Mr. William G. Huckle objected to the large party going into Mrs. Houser's, until he would first prepare her or ask her permission. Our party of four, Mr. and Mrs. William G. Huckle, Mr. B. F. Hodgson and Mrs. Emma Palmer, then entered Mrs. Houser's home, where we were cordially welcomed, one of the inmates coming to the door and ushering us into the parlor, where we were introduced to and greeted by Mrs. Ann Houser. The conversation between Mrs. Houser and Mr. Huckle, in my presence, was of the most amicable and pleasant nature, without a jarring or discordant word. Mr. Huckle said to Mrs. Houser: "Well, Annie, are you still of the same mind that you were last night? Are you willing to give up the life you have been leading, right away, and live a right life?" Mrs. Houser replied: "Yes, I am." After a few minutes of pleasant conversation, in which Mrs. Houser said she would give up the house in which she now resides, and some remarks about sending her boy away to school, Mr. Hodgson informed Mrs. Houser that there were a number of good friends of her's outside the house, who were anxious to meet and greet her, and to show by their actions that they were willing and eager to help her along to a better life. Mrs. Houser at once gave her consent to the coming in of the party. After they were introduced, some one asked Mrs. Houser if they could hold a service of prayer, to which she gave an affirmative answer, and Mr. William G. Huckle called on Mr. Hodgson to lead in prayer. There were several prayers offered up and several gospel songs or hymns sung, and Mrs. Houser professed conversion and expressed a desire to join the First M. E. church of East Liverpool, on probation, and Mr. Hodgson took her name. During the entire meeting, Mrs. Houser, in word and manner, expressed the utmost confidence and kindly feeling for Mr. William G. Huckle, and shook hands cordially with him upon parting. Further, Mr. William G. Huckle asked Mrs. Houser, in my presence and hearing, if he had ever done or said anything she could object to, and she made reply, "No." Mr. Huckle then said: "Not even to my representing myself as a furniture man?" Mrs. Houser laughed and said, "I forgive you even that, and am glad of it."

Mrs. EMMA PALMER. Sworn to before me, by Mrs. Emma Palmer, and by her subscribed in my presence, this 19th day of November, A. D. 1895. JAMES N. ROSE, Notary Public. This is to certify that the affidavit made and sworn to by Mrs. Emma Palmer, hereunto attached, is correct and true in every particular.

WILLIAM G. HUCKLE. ALICE HUCKLE. Sworn to and subscribed before me, this 19th day of November, A. D. 1895. JAMES N. ROSE, Notary Public. The undersigned, Benjamin H. Hodgson, was present at the house of Ann Houser on Nov. 3, when Ann Houser stated in my presence, and the presence of Mrs. Palmer, Mrs. Huckle and Mr. Huckle, that Mr. Huckle had neither said or done anything that anyone could object to, and on Monday, Nov. 4, I was again at Mrs. Houser's house with Mr. Huckle when Ann Houser said the same thing, and also said she felt the Lord had forgiven her, and hoped Mr. Huckle would forgive her for saying anything which would reflect discredit upon him. B. F. HODGSON. Sworn to and subscribed before me, on the 20th day of Nov. 1895. GEORGE MORLEY, Notary Public.

We, the undersigned, and William Huckle, declare the following to be true. On November 2, 1895, we, the above named persons, visited the house by arrangement of Ann Houser, for the purpose of inducing Mrs. Houser to discontinue her nefarious practice. We reached the house about 7 o'clock, p. m. Ann Houser answered the door, and asked us to go round to the back door, which we did. The door was opened by one of the girls kept by Ann Houser for immoral purposes. She showed us into a room at the back part of the house; the room contained five chairs, a small table, a lamp and a cuspidor. There was no carpet on the floor. After we had seated ourselves we commenced putting a few questions, resulting in the following information being given: They had no carpet on the floor, as sometimes there were a large number of gents from East Liverpool who liked to have a kick up, and sometimes they cut up rough, and if there were any carpet on the floor, or fancy things about, damage would be done, though the gents always were willing to pay for any damage they committed. Mrs. Houser, or Wilson, was not in the room at the time; she was upstairs dressing for the evening. The two girls begged and coaxed and entreated us to buy some wine—it was two dollars a bottle they said. Miss Houser afterwards said to us that it was not wine, but only soft drinks, which cost her about fifteen cents a bottle. We refused to purchase any, and after a time Annie came into the room. Mr. Huckle then told Annie he wanted to speak to her a minute, and Annie and we went upstairs to the parlor and engaged in general conversation; a short time elapsed when one of the girls called Maggie, asked Annie to come to her, which she did. There was a man with Maggie in the passage leading into the bedrooms, and Maggie wanted a lamp, so Annie took the lamp from the parlor, leaving us in darkness. An altercation took place about the money the woman Annie demanded, Annie saying, "that is all right but that ain't my money," upon which the man replied, "I'll give the girl the other when I am ready to do so." They then went into the bedroom, Annie returning to the parlor and lighting another lamp. She told us she had the best men in the city who were her patrons; also that a man from Wellsville came frequently and was her best customer as far as paying went.

After Mr. Huckle told her who he was she flew into a temper, but afterward quieted down, and said she would give up the life. At this juncture the girl Maggie came from the bedroom, and let the man out; she came into the parlor and gave Annie two 50-cent pieces, which we suppose was the amount he agreed to pay the girl over and above the sum he at first wished to pay. The language and suggestions of the two girls before Annie came into the room was simply disgusting and revolting.

Ann Houser stated that Mr. Huckle did not in any way, or at any time, say or do anything of an objectionable character, and thanked Mr. Huckle most heartily for his kindness to her, and asked him to bring his wife up to see her, which Mr. Huckle has since done.

HOOKSTOWN ENTERPRISE. An Entertainment at the Presbyterian Church. There is a lady in our town today who has been doing energetic work in pushing the interests of the Presbyterian church at Hookstown. The lady in question is a relative of one of our most prominent citizens. She has been visiting our prominent merchants in an effort to secure advertisers for a program of the above event, and has been very successful in her work. She deserves success, as she is an intelligent and earnest worker in the good cause she advocates, and if the Hookstown Presbyterian church has many such pushing members, there is no danger in them failing in any enterprise they may see fit to undertake.

REFORM.

Is there the shadow of a doubt in the minds of good citizens that reform is necessary in our midst? Is there the shadow of a doubt that saloonkeepers have been breaking the existing laws of this municipality in a most shameful manner? Is there the shadow of a doubt that the social evil has become an awful curse in our city? Is it not a well-known fact that crime in our midst is becoming a much too common feature? Do we not know that an infamous house of ill fame has existed within the city limits for years, and that it has seemed next to an impossibility for our officials to obtain proof positive against it, of such a nature as would compel the shameless proprietress to vacate and flee from this community? Where lies the cause? Is it in our jury box? Are there men there so lost to shame that they will wink at the monstrous evil? Are our laws so weak that they cannot deal properly with this horrid curse? Can men in high places be persuaded to look upon this sin with complacency and permit it to exist? Only a few nights since, the word came from the lips of a good citizen that men had banded together to tar and feather William G. Huckle, simply because he is the representative of law and order and of the social purity league, and because he had been outrageously and maliciously misrepresented by bad men. William G. Huckle was advised, by true and staunch citizens, to call upon Mayor Gilbert and demand protection at his hands; but he refused, asserting that his enemies would brand him as a coward and as exhibiting the "white feather." So he went to his home, barricaded doors and windows, loaded trusty revolvers and awaited his enemies. But the cowards never came. Good men and true, courageous citizens, armed to the teeth, patrolled the vicinity of Huckle's home that night, routing out six toughs in one place, four in another and two in another, and woe betide those ruffians had they dared to attempt to carry their threats into execution. Mayor Gilbert has said that he is sorry Mr. Huckle did not apply to him for protection, as he should have received all the assistance required. Further, the men who have been insulting this representative of the ministers' and good citizens' committee, will find it to their advantage to cease this disorderly conduct upon the streets of East Liverpool, or they will be requested to step down to the mayor's office and pay stiff fines. A word to the wise should be sufficient. Don't say that you did not receive warning. If William G. Huckle is not a true man, but is a bad man and unworthy of respect and amenable to the laws, there is a legal way in which to punish him. But if he acts within the law, then the men who assail him are not good citizens, and are themselves amenable to the law, and should be and will be punished. If a mountain of affidavits are in the possession of Huckle's vicious enemies, whereby they can consign the unfortunate and wicked infidel to durance vile, how noble, and generous, and charitable are those enemies when they refrain from pushing the unfortunate and friendless man to the wall. It is extremely gratifying to good citizens, irrespective of party, to know that Mayor A. V. Gilbert, the chief magistrate of East Liverpool, is in favor of the absolute enforcement of law and order, no matter whose head falls into the basket. Any clean and law-abiding citizen or official has nothing to fear from prosecution. If he is innocent his innocence will be proved. If guilty, off cometh his official head. The licensed saloonkeeper, acting within the law, has nothing to fear, as he is in a legitimate business, from a legal standpoint. When he disobeys the law, let him act as a thoroughbred and take the consequences like a man. Turn on the light.

SULTAN REPORTED POISONED.

The American Mission at Kharpout Damaged to the Extent of $100,000.

BERLIN, Nov. 20.—A dispatch received here from Sofia, Bulgaria, says that the sultan of Turkey, Abdul Hamid, has been poisoned. No details are given.

A Constantinople dispatch says: Minister Terrell has received word that the American mission has been destroyed at Kharpout, causing a $100,000 loss. Raiders, protected by Turkish soldiers, fired on mission houses and joined in the plunder. Special police was shown missionaries. A shell was burst in Missionary Barnum's house. The missionaries are now protected. Troubles are reported as beginning in Marsovan, Van and Aintab.

A dispatch from Rome gives additional information concerning the negotiations between Austria and Russia so far as the Turkish empire is concerned. The correspondent says that Austria proposed that the combined forces of the Dardanelles and that their joint armies should occupy Constantinople, if necessary. To these propositions Russia declined to agree.

An Odessa correspondent says that it is reported in official circles that in view of the possible disruption of Turkey Russia and England are negotiating an agreement which will give the czar a free hand for the occupation of annexation of Anatolia, while England will have the right to establish a permanent protectorate in Egypt.

THE K. of L. Convention.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 20.—The general assembly of the Knights of Labor has taken cognizance of the opinion rendered by Justice Brewer of the United States supreme court, affirming the decision of Judge Ross, sentencing Clune and three others of the California railroad strikers to 18 months in prison for obstructing the mails. Master Workman Sovereign presented a resolution condemning the action, which was adopted.

May Lynch the Negro.
EMPORIA, Kan., Nov. 20.—David Henderson, the Dunlap township colored school teacher who ran amuck after trying to assault one of his pupils, has given himself up and was taken back to Dunlap and jailed. Great excitement exists, and there is talk of lynching the negro. Mrs. Tom Starkus and Mrs. Ray, two of Henderson's victims, cannot live, while Tom Starkus' wounds are considered dangerous.

A New Gold Field Discovered.
DENVER, Nov. 20.—Major W. S. Peabody has arrived in the city from Leadville, Colorado, bringing specimens of ore taken from the largest vein ever discovered. If the discovery sustains the claims of those who have been upon the ground, a new gold bearing region has been found which will eclipse anything known in the world.

SMALL OHIO HAPPENINGS.
Simon Miner, an escaped murderer, has been captured and is now lodged in the Kenton jail.

The 3-year-old son of Ferdinand Miller of Akron fell into a bucket of boiling water and was scalded to death.

Frank Whitelaw, the local manager of the Standard Oil Company at Portsmouth, received serious injuries by falling into an oil tank.

The general store operated by Simon Dadasch at Portsmouth was burglarized and jewelry stolen amounting to $600. There is no clue to the burglar.

Lewis Heid, a prominent saloonkeeper of Portsmouth, is suffering with a severe attack of blood poisoning in his left hand caused by a scratch of a splinter.

Edward Springer, who broke jail at Moundville, la., several weeks ago, has been arrested by Marshal Hardgrove of Nelsonville. He is wanted for an attempt to assault an 11-year-old girl.

Albert Hamilton, a convict from Trumbull county serving a two-year sentence for burglary, attempted suicide by drinking sulphuric acid secured in the home of his wife, where he was employed. He will probably die.

William Price of Portsmouth, a colored man, was assaulted by William Carey, a tramp whom he had taken in and given shelter about two weeks ago. Carey was arrested and will be held to await the result of Price's injuries.

B & O detectives traced four burglars to Washington C. H., and while following them, found where they had hidden their plunder in a cornfield. Several plush capes, 21 pairs of men's pants and four overcoats were found under a corn shock.

George H. Freshell of Portsmouth, proprietor of the Palace restaurant, during a delirium caused by a week's illness attempted to commit suicide by cutting his throat. Two hours afterward he made a second attempt by tearing loose the bandages roping the wounds, and is now in a critical condition.

THEY ESCAPED FROM A CIRCUS.

Many Sheep and Calves Killed.—Farmers Go Armed in Their Fields.—Travel After Night Entirely Stopped.—A Hunting Party Will Be Organized.

DELAWARE, O., Nov. 20.—Citizens of Thompson township, this county, are being terrorized by a lioness and two leopards, which escaped from a circus some time ago and traveled from Marion county.

Many sheep and calves have been killed. The farmers go to their field work heavily armed. Travel after night has been entirely stopped. A neighborhood hunting party will be organized to slay the beasts.

INQUEST AT CLEVELAND.

The Coroner Investigating the Cause of the Street Car Disaster.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 20.—At the coroner's inquest in connection with the terrible street car accident at the Central viaduct Captain Charles Brenner, who was in charge of the drawbridge on the night of the accident, testified that the bridge gates were closed and a red light displayed over them when the car came up. He stated that the electric cut-off which is supposed to shut off the current on the trolley wires 500 feet from the drawbridge when the latter is open had been out of order for at least ten days. Brenner testified that it was a dark, rainy night; that he first noticed the car when it was about 40 feet from the gates. He yelled at the motorman, who jumped to the bridge just in time to save himself from going over with the car.

Philip Beck, who was with Captain Brenner on the bridge at the time of accident, corroborated the latter's testimony.

Motorman Rogers refused to testify in the absence of his attorney, and when the latter arrived he declared that it was unjust to his client, who had been charged with manslaughter, to ask him to testify.

THAT ELUSIVE CONVENTION.

First Pittsburgh Has It and Then It's San Francisco.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 20.—The statement that the Hon. J. S. Clarkson had written to a friend in Pittsburgh telling him to rent rooms for the national Republican convention there being no reservation in the letter, has not been confirmed. And now comes another story which takes the convention to the Pacific coast.

During a recent meeting here at which were present quite a number of Ohio politicians friendly to Governor McKinley, it was given out "confidentially" that 21 members of the national committee had pledged themselves to San Francisco and that the railroads had agreed to make a $25 round trip rate. If this be true, San Francisco has only five more members to get to secure the convention.

Miss Campbell Dead.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 20.—A dispatch from Ironton, O., says that Miss Campbell, who attained notoriety a few years ago in a breach of promise case claiming $100,000 damages from Ar buckle, the coffee dealer, has died in Dr. Gray's sanitarium at Hanging Rock. Miss Campbell's sister is the wife of ex-Mayor William Means of Cincinnati.

Au Heir to a Million.

MARION, O., Nov. 20.—Frank Wayland of Marion has received a letter from a Baltimore attorney, asking him his relationship to William Wayland, who moved to Ohio years ago. Wayland replied that he was the man's son, whereupon the attorney now writes him that he is the heir to the Wayland estate in Maryland valued at $1,000,000.

A Fine Boat Launched.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 20.—The Virginia, the finest boat on the Ohio river, drawing 27 inches, has been launched for the Cincinnati and Pittsburg Packet company.

LEGAL TENDER NOTE.

Carlisle Says Its the Evil of Our Currency System.

FREESILVER SHOULD BE VOTED ON

He Says the People Ought to Decide Our Financial Policy Permanently, So as to Firmly Establish Confidence.—Addressed New York Business Men.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The one hundred and twenty-seventh annual banquet of the chamber of commerce of the state of New York was held at Delmonico's last evening. Secretary Carlisle spoke on "Our Currency System." Senator J. C. Burrows of Michigan spoke on "Our Domestic Commerce." Charles Emory Smith of Philadelphia, ex-minister to Russia, spoke on "National Development and Opportunity." Secretary Carlisle said:

"Two years ago, at your annual banquet, I said that the disposition and ability of the government to maintain its own credit at the highest standard and to preserve the integrity of all the forms of currency in circulation among the people could not be reasonably doubted and ought not to be the subject of further controversy. But the task is both difficult and expensive. Since that declaration was made here, interest-bearing bonds to the amount of $192,315,400 have been issued to procure gold for the redemption of United States notes. The notes still remain the same as at the beginning. The notes are redeemed, but they are unpaid. Our legal standard of value is as sound as that of any country in the world, and if we had such a currency system to guarantee its permanent maintenance no government would command a larger credit or realize greater benefits from it than ours; but the great investors of the world appreciate the difficulties under which we are laboring, and until these difficulties are removed we cannot reasonably hope to see perfect confidence restored at home or abroad.

"The fundamental vice in our currency system is the legal tender note redeemable in coin by the government and reissuable under the law. There are other defects, but this threatens the stability of the whole volume of our currency. So long as these notes are outstanding, the slightest diminution of the coin reserve at once excites a feeling of apprehension and distrust, affects the values of all securities, curtails investments and more or less surely embarrasses all the business affairs of the people. In attempting to provide a circulating medium consisting of its own notes redeemable in coin on presentation and reissuable after redemption, the government of the United States is in a business for which it is wholly unfitted, and which was never for a moment contemplated by its founders. It has a right to borrow money and issue evidences of the debt, but it was never contemplated that it should convert itself into a bank of issue and furnish a legal tender paper currency for the use of the people.

"No change made in our currency system will afford relief, unless it provide for the redemption of the legal tenders. The circulation of legal tenders has a tendency to drive out of use and out of the country the very coin in which the government is compelled to redeem them; and it has expelled millions of dollars from our borders. Although the government and our own people are compelled to receive them, they will not discharge obligations, and gold must go out to settle all final balances against us. No other government in the world is required to supply gold from its treasury to discharge the obligations of its citizens.

"While the pecuniary loss to which the people have been subjected by the issue and continued circulation of legal tender has been almost incalculable, this has not been the only injury inflicted upon the country. The theories that the government can create money by placing its stamp upon paper or other material; that a legislative enactment can make 50 cents equal in value to 100 cents; that artificially inflated prices, paid in a depreciated currency, are better for the people than natural prices, paid in a sound currency, and various other vagaries now floating like bubbles in the political atmosphere, are all directly attributable to the long continued use of legal tender paper.

"The agitation for the free coinage of legal tender silver is predicted upon the same vicious principle that underlies the legislation making paper money a legal tender; but there is a practical difference between the two systems. The United States note was a forced loan from the people to the government, which the government promised to repay in dollars, but the free coinage of legal tender silver at the ratio of 16 to 1, would be a forced loan from the people to the owners of silver mines and silver bullion without a promise of repayment by anybody.

"The campaign against the proposition to debase our standard of value should not be abandoned or suspended. If the friends of a sound and stable measure of value are vigilant and active this effort cannot possibly succeed, and the question will soon recede from the public view.

"But the United States legal tender notes will remain to complicate the currency system and embarrass the government. In my opinion, the legislation at the earliest possible date is imperatively demanded by every substantial interest of the country, and its postponement upon any pretext of political expediency in advance that no satisfactory result can be accomplished, would be a very grave mistake.

"No nation can reasonably hope to control the trade of any considerable part of the world unless its exchanges are based upon a standard of value recognized as sound in all the centers of commerce. The pound sterling has made London not only the principal market, but the clearing house of the world. England not only realizes great profit from her own trade, but takes toll out of the international trade of all other countries. With an inferior currency, we could never successfully contest her supremacy, and the belief that we can punish her and enrich ourselves by destroying the value of our own money is one of the remarkable delusions of the age.

"Much of our financial trouble has been caused by doubt and speculation, here and abroad, concerning the views and purposes of our people at large and the policies of the political parties to which they are attached. It is of vast importance that these doubts and speculations should be set at rest in order that the world may certainly know what is to be our permanent monetary policy. Let us have no more ambiguous phrases, no more inconsistent and irreconcilable clauses in party platforms or in public utterances, but let us make our meaning so clear and our purpose so plain that they can be neither misunderstood nor successfully misrepresented. If a majority of the people of the United States are in favor of the maintenance of the present standard of value they ought to have an opportunity to say so. On the other hand, if a majority of our people are in favor of abandoning the present standard of value and establishing silver money, let them say so clearly and distinctly so that when this issue is directly presented we need not fear the result."

Affiliated With Chicago University.

THE GAS PROBLEM ON

An Official Document From the
Bridgewater Co.

FACTS AND FIGURES PRODUCED

The Officials of the Bridgewater Gas Company Give Their Reasons Why Gas Cannot Be Supplied at a Less Figure Than 20 Cents Per Thousand Feet, Net—The Figures of Expenditure and Receipts Will Be Placed Before Any Fair and Honorable Committee Appointed By Councilor Citizens.

"Our East Liverpool plant contemplates the expenditure of a pipe line from the Sheffield gas district in Beaver county, Pa., to East Liverpool and Wellsville, O., the cost of maintaining said line and the cost of putting in the plant at East Liverpool and Wellsville. The expenditure at Wellsville is comparatively small, compared with that at East Liverpool, but having been carried by our company under one account, it is not susceptible of division and can only be compared as a whole.

"Our entire expenditure in our East Liverpool plant, as noted from Feb. 17, 1887, to Oct. 1, 1895, is $486,781.94. This does not include the cost of any gas, or the drilling of wells to supply gas; simply the cost of the plant itself and its operation and maintenance. The first year of our expenditures amounted to $452,000; our gross revenues received up to Oct. 1, 1895, on account of the total expenditure, will not exceed $225,000. There should be deducted from the gross revenues the cost of leases, laying service lines, the drilling of wells and the purchase of gas, which would at least amount to one-half of this sum, or bring those revenues down, after deducting the cost of gas, to a sum not to exceed $125,000. Deducting therefrom $125,000 from the plant as it stands today, would leave the balance of our expenditure $361,781.94. This, it must be borne in mind, does not take into consideration any interest account, which at 5 per cent per annum would more than amount to the entire revenue received for gas, saying nothing of the immense amount invested in the plant as noted.

We would be very happy to suffer a discount, amounting to an absolute loss upon our East Liverpool plant of several hundred thousand dollars, if there should be any one desirous of purchasing the plant and going into the business. These statements are made to show that our company are not only not making a reasonable sum upon their investment, but have an immense loss that never can be regained.

To any committee of competent gentlemen from East Liverpool, who desire to investigate these statements, we would only be too happy to show them the detail of every expenditure making up the sums herein stated. They can have full, free and uninterrupted access to all the records of our business to prove the above statement.

As to the reasonableness for the price of gas, we would say that the various companies in Pittsburgh, at Bellevue, the Ohio Valley Gas company at Sewickley and surrounding towns, the Heat and Light company at Rochester, the Fort Pitt company at Baden, the Citizens' Gas company at Beaver Falls, the Shenango company, supplying New Castle, the Mahoning Gas company, supplying Youngstown, none of them charge a less rate by meter than 20 cents net per thousand and some of them higher.

As a comparison of our contract rates for the year ending Oct. 1, 1894, at East Liverpool, we would say that our total receipts were $22,884.64; under the meter rate for the next year, ending Oct. 1, 1895, and with an increased number of consumers over the previous year our total receipts were $16,150.09. Thus it will be noted that, under the meter rates for the last year, they are over 40 per cent less than the contract rates of the year previous. Or, by adding the same percentage of increase to the meter rates of last year, that we have increased for the year to come, to wit, 25 per cent, or in other words, if we had charged 20 cents for gas for the year ending Oct. 1, 1894, our receipts even then would have been nearly $3,000 less than we received under the contract rate. Carrying out this line to our entire business we suffered a loss of resources of over $50,000 the past year under our meter rates, as compared with the contract rates of the previous year.

We have preferred to sell our gas by meter for reasons published to our patrons, and which they all well understand. We had hoped that, through the use of meters, and the consequent economical use of gas, we might effect a saving in the cost of production that would counterbalance the loss by abandoning the extravagant use under the contract system; but we find no difference there, as the diminishing supply costs us more and more each year to produce. Indeed, without the present saving in volume, promoted by use of meters, we could have no gas whatever for at least one-half the consumers we now supply.

Under no circumstances can we be expected to do business at East Liverpool for less than a net rate of 20 cents for gas. We could not charge a different rate at East Liverpool from what we charge at other places; indeed, taking into consideration the distance of transportation and the location of our wells, we should charge more at East Liverpool than at any other places where we are supplying gas.

The total gas for domestic consumption last month at our various places was approximately 40,000,000 feet. East Liverpool consuming 8,000,000 feet; hence it would be very plain that, as we are not receiving 25 per cent of our revenue from East Liverpool, it would be unjust to ask a deduction of 25 per cent, which if complied with would compel the same deduction at other places, and hence we would save money by going out of business entirely at East Liverpool.

Our company are doing their best and using the most intelligent effort that can be procured to supply the people with natural gas for fuel. We are also looking with great hope to a line that we have given much thought and study, as well as considerable expense, that when natural gas ceases we may be able to supply its place with an artificial gas.

We are quite sensible that the question of reasonableness of price will govern in the matter of gas supply at East Liverpool as well as elsewhere. We are firmly of the opinion that our price is not unreasonable, and these figures and facts noted are given for the benefit of the intelligent portion of East Liverpool, who are patrons of our company, and they ultimately must be the judge as to whether they can afford to pay the price we ask for gas. As for us, we cannot afford to sell it for less than we now ask.

The above quoted statements are official, directly from the headquarters of the Bridgewater Gas company, Pittsburgh, and are taken from the books at Rochester, Pa. The News Review has been shown the itemized account in every minute detail, as to receipts and expenditures, and the president of the Bridgewater Gas company, Mr. Merritt Greene, informs us that these figures can be verified at any time by any responsible committee from East Liverpool, either of council or of citizens most interested. There appeared in the columns of the East Liverpool Crisis, in their edition of Nov. 19, the statement that Beaver Falls pays but 20 cents per 1,000 feet, to both the Bridgewater and Citizens' Gas company, with a discount of 20 per cent when paid before the 10th of each month. President Greene pronounces this statement absolutely false, as the price paid at those points is 20 cents per 1,000 feet net.

Pastor Serkinin, of Armenia.

This evening at 8 o'clock Reverend Serkinin, a native minister of Armenia, will deliver a lecture in the Evangelical Lutheran church, corner Third and Jackson streets. He will give an accurate account of the late Christian and Jewish persecution in his native country. As he lost his son and 100 members of his congregation in one of the recent massacres, he is in a position to give us a vivid description of the horrors that are being perpetrated upon our Christian and Jewish fellow men. Pastor Serkinin's lecture is in the English language and free to all. He travels in the interest of the widows and orphans of the massacred Armenians, for whom a collection will be taken. A full attendance is desired. J. G. REINARTZ, Pastor.

H. H. Emmett took our great Star course audience, at 9:10 p. m., after they had listened an hour to W. H. Sherwood's fine playing, and held the throng spellbound until 11 o'clock.—N. C. Stewart, Cleveland Star course, Grand Opera House, tomorrow night.

COURT NOTES.

Important Jottings From the County Seat.

The McKenna case was continued yesterday at 1:30, Norman McBane being again called to the stand and testifying: "I crossed the trestle on the 2d of November, 1891, a few days before the accident. I had driven over said trestle on two different occasions on election day."

George Persohn—I reside at East Liverpool and have crossed this trestle several times, both driving and on horseback.

Mrs. McKenna testified as to being the wife of the injured man, Charles McKenna, and to the condition of his injured limb, from the time of the accident to the present writing.

Mrs. Braceland—I live near McKenna's, and was there the day Charley was injured. For several months he was confined to the house and suffered terribly, and for several months afterward he was unable to walk without crutches.

Patrick McKenna, father of Charles, testified as to the extent of his son's injuries.

City Clerk Hanley, of East Liverpool, was put on the stand and testified as to the city council proceedings and resolutions, which tended to show that the land purchased, upon which to construct this bridge, was bought for public purposes, and for use as a public highway. The resolutions of council were read by Attorney Smith, and admitted in evidence. An objection was made, to show that when the bridge was constructed, a demand was made of the city of East Liverpool, by Albert Johnson for the sum of $1,800, as their share of the bridge, and that this offer was rejected as unreasonable. The court objected to this being admitted upon the record.

Mr. Roberts—Reside in Jethro. On the afternoon McKenna was injured, I was on the trestle and went up on the track and rode down. The car jumped the track when coming at the rate of 50 miles an hour; no one was controlling it.

Mrs. Stanley testified to the condition of the car and the rate of speed.

Mr. Mackall, who was then city solicitor of East Liverpool, testified to the proceedings relative to the city's interest in the bridge. The testimony of this witness was principally ruled out, as being incompetent.

The prosecution rested its case with the testimony of Doctor Moore.

Dr. F. F. Moor, of Lisbon, testified that he had examined the foot of Charles McKenna some time during the past year, and gave testimony as to the extent of the injuries. He stated that paralysis of a group of muscles in the foot had been caused and all the bones in the instep of the foot have been drawn out of position by this. Nothing can be done with the foot now. He further stated that he could not now say whether anything could have been done before or not.

The two actions brought by Mear Bros., of East Liverpool, against I. N. Crable, to recover on four promissory notes, amounting to $294.02, were brought to the common pleas court last evening. These actions were brought before Squire Morley Sept. 29, and were by him dismissed.

Judge Blandin, for the defense, made a motion that the case be terminated and a verdict given for the defendants. On the opening of court this afternoon, Judge Billingsley gave a lengthy decision on this motion, and the case was dismissed.

Owing to the absence of Albert Johnson, Cleveland, the case of the county commissioners against him, which was to have been called today, was continued to Dec. 26.

Mrs. Mary S. Zelly has filed a $5,000 damage suit against the village of Salineville, for injuries received by her through a fall in that place on Aug. 4, 1894. Mrs. Zelly is a cripple and walks with a crutch, and on the evening she was injured was returning from church, when her crutch went through an opening in the floor of the bridge, nearly city hall. The floor had for some time been in a bad condition and the fall she received, being thrown violently, bruised and injured her about her right arm and shoulder, to such an extent that partial paralysis was caused, which is said to be of a permanent nature. She states that she has incurred expenses in the sum of $500 for board and nursing.

After THREE MONTHS of Daily Wear

This Collar

is Still in Good Condition.

That's because it's the "CELLULOID" Collar. Its original cost was 25 cts. and it cost the wearer nothing after wards to keep it clean. When soiled simply wipe off with sponge or wet cloth.

These collars and cuffs are waterproof, and are the only waterproof goods made with an interlining of linen; therefore the only ones that can last and give absolute satisfaction. Every piece of the genuine is stamped as follows:

Refuse anything that is not so marked, and if your dealer has not got the right kind send direct to us, enclosing amount, and we will mail you a sample postpaid. Collars 25 cts. each. Cuffs 50 cts. pair. Give size, and state whether stand-up or turned-down collar is wanted. THE CELLULOID COMPANY, 427-29 Broadway, NEW YORK.

City Hall.

Thomas McClee and Dan Gourley were each fined $25 and costs today for being drunk and disorderly. Mrs. McClee appeared and paid her husband's fine, upon him taking a pledge not to touch a drop of liquor for one year. Gourley did not pay his fine and he, in company with Downard and Finn, will be taken to the workhouse tomorrow.

W. A. McGuire, a well known citizen of McKay, O., is of the opinion that there is nothing as good for children troubled with colds or croup as Chamberlain's Cough remedy. He has used it in his family for several years with the best results and always keeps a bottle of it in the house. After having a gripe he was himself troubled with a severe cough. He used other remedies without benefit and then concluded to try the children's medicine and to his delight it soon effected a permanent cure. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Broken Fetters.

The home talent temperance dramatic company are preparing a drama entitled "Broken Fetters." The play will be produced in the early part of December.

Henry Wilson, the postmaster at Welshon, Florida, says he cured a case of diarrhoea of long standing in six hours, with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea remedy. What a pleasant surprise that must have been to the sufferer. Such cures are not unusual with this remedy. In many instances only one or two doses are required to give permanent relief. It can always be depended upon. When reduced with water it is pleasant to take. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

For a pain in the side or chest there is nothing so good as a piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain. It affords prompt and permanent relief and if used in time will often prevent a cold from resulting in pneumonia. This same treatment is a sure cure for lame back. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Reserved seats for the Choral union entertainment on Friday, Nov. 22, can be secured at Will Reed's drug store on Thursday and Friday. Admission 25c. Reserved seats 10c extra.

THE GAS PROBLEM ON

An Official Document From the
Bridgewater Co.

FACTS AND FIGURES PRODUCED

The Officials of the Bridgewater Gas Company Give Their Reasons Why Gas Cannot Be Supplied at a Less Figure Than 20 Cents Per Thousand Feet, Net—The Figures of Expenditure and Receipts Will Be Placed Before Any Fair and Honorable Committee Appointed By Councillor Citizens.

"Our East Liverpool plant contemplates the expenditure of a pipe line from the Sheffield gas district in Beaver county, Pa., to East Liverpool and Wellsville, O., the cost of maintaining said line and the cost of putting in the plant at East Liverpool and Wellsville. The expenditure at Wellsville is comparatively small, compared with that at East Liverpool, but having been carried by our company under one account, it is not susceptible of division and can only be compared as a whole.

"Our entire expenditure in our East Liverpool plant, as noted from Feb. 17, 1887, to Oct. 1, 1895, is $486,781.94. This does not include the cost of any gas, or the drilling of wells to supply gas; simply the cost of the plant itself and its operation and maintenance. The first year of our expenditures amounted to $452,000; our gross revenues received up to Oct. 1, 1895, on account of the total expenditure, will not exceed $225,000. There should be deducted from the gross revenues the cost of leases, laying service lines, the drilling of wells and the purchase of gas, which would at least amount to one-half of this sum, or bring those revenues down, after deducting the cost of gas, to a sum not to exceed $125,000. Deducting therefor $125,000 from the plant as it stands today, would leave the balance of our expenditure $361,781.94. This, it must be borne in mind, does not take into consideration any interest account, which at 5 per cent per annum would more than amount to the entire revenue received for gas, saying nothing of the immense amount invested in the plant as noted.

We would be very happy to suffer a discount, amounting to an absolute loss upon our East Liverpool plant of several hundred thousand dollars, if there should be any one desirous of purchasing the plant and going into the business. These statements are made to show that our company are not only not making a reasonable sum upon their investment, but have an immense loss that never can be regained.

To any committee of competent gentlemen from East Liverpool, who desire to investigate these statements, we would only be too happy to show them the detail of every expenditure making up the sums herein stated. They can have full, free and uninterrupted access to all the records of our business to prove the above statement.

As to the reasonableness for the price of gas, we would say that the various companies in Pittsburgh, at Bellevue, the Ohio Valley Gas company at Sewickley and surrounding towns, the Heat and Light company at Rochester, the Fort Pitt company at Baden, the Citizens' Gas company at Beaver Falls, the Shenango company, supplying New Castle, the Mahoning Gas company, supplying Youngstown, none of them charge a less rate by meter than 20 cents net per thousand and some of them higher.

As a comparison of our contract rates for the year ending Oct. 1, 1894, at East Liverpool, we would say that our total receipts were $22,884.64; under the meter rate for the next year, ending Oct. 1, 1895, and with an increased number of consumers over the previous year our total receipts were $16,150.09. Thus it will be noted that, under the meter rates for the last year, they are over 40 per cent less than the contract rates of the year previous. Or, by adding the same percentage of increase to the meter rates of last year, that we have increased for the year to come, to wit, 25 per cent, or in other words, if we had charged 20 cents for gas for the year ending Oct. 1, 1894, our receipts even then would have been nearly $3,000 less than we received under the contract rate. Carrying out this line to our entire business we suffered a loss of resources of over $50,000 the past year under our meter rates, as compared with the contract rates of the previous year.

We have preferred to sell our gas by meter for reasons published to our patrons, and which they all well understand. We had hoped that, through the use of meters, and the consequent economical use of gas, we might effect a saving in the cost of production that would counterbalance the loss by abandoning the extravagant use under the contract system; but we find no difference there, as the diminishing supply costs us more and more each year to produce. Indeed, without the present saving in volume, promoted by use of meters, we could have no gas whatever for at least one-half the consumers we now supply.

Under no circumstances can we be expected to do business at East Liverpool for less than a net rate of 20 cents for gas. We could not charge a different rate at East Liverpool from what we charge at other places; indeed, taking into consideration the distance of transportation and the location of our wells, we should charge more at East Liverpool than at any other places where we are supplying gas.

The total gas for domestic consumption last month at our various places was approximately 40,000,000 feet; East Liverpool consuming 8,000,000 feet; hence it would be very plain that, as we are not receiving 25 per cent of our revenue from East Liverpool, it would be unjust to ask a deduction of 25 per cent, which if complied with would compel the same deduction at other places, and hence we would save money by going out of business entirely at East Liverpool.

Our company are doing their best and using the most intelligent effort that can be procured to supply the people with natural gas for fuel. We are also looking with great hope to a line that we have given much thought and study, as well as considerable expense, that when natural gas ceases we may be able to supply its place with an artificial gas.

We are quite sensible that the question of reasonableness of price will govern in the matter of gas supply at East Liverpool as well as elsewhere. We are firmly of the opinion that our price is not unreasonable, and these figures and facts noted are given for the benefit of the intelligent portion of East Liverpool, who are patrons of our company, and they ultimately must be the judge as to whether they can afford to pay the price we ask for gas. As for us, we cannot afford to sell it for less than we now ask."

The above quoted statements are official, directly from the headquarters of the Bridgewater Gas company, Pittsburgh, and are taken from the books at Rochester, Pa. The News Review has been shown the itemized account in every minute detail, as to receipts and expenditures, and the president of the Bridgewater Gas company, Mr. Merritt Greene, informs us that these figures can be verified at any time by any responsible committee from East Liverpool, either of council or of citizens most interested. There appeared in the columns of the East Liverpool Crisis, in their edition of Nov. 19, the statement that Beaver Falls pays but 20 cents per 1,000 feet, to both the Bridgewater and Citizens' Gas company, with a discount of 20 per cent when paid before the 10th of each month. President Greene pronounces this statement absolutely false, as the price paid at those points is 20 cents per 1,000 feet net.

Pastor Serkinkin, of Armenia.

This evening at 8 o'clock Reverend Serkinkin, a native minister of Armenia, will deliver a lecture in the Evangelical Lutheran church, corner Third and Jackson streets. He will give an accurate account of the late Christian and Jewish persecution in his native country. As he lost his son and 100 members of his congregation in one of the recent massacres, he is in a position to give us a vivid description of the horrors that are being perpetrated upon our Christian and Jewish fellow men. Pastor Serkinkin's lecture is in the English language and free to all. He travels in the interest of the widows and orphans of the massacred Armenians, for whom a collection will be taken. A full attendance is desired. J. G. REINARTZ, Pastor.

H. H. Emmett took our great Star course audience, at 9:10 p. m., after they had listened an hour to W. H. Sherwood's fine playing, and held the throng spellbound until 11 o'clock.—N. C. Stewart, Cleveland Star course, Grand Opera House, tomorrow night.

COURT NOTES.

Important Jottings From the County Seat.

The McKenna case was continued yesterday at 1:30, Norman McBane being again called to the stand and testifying: "I crossed the trestle on the 2d of November, 1891, a few days before the accident. I had driven over said trestle on two different occasions on election day."

George Persohn—I reside at East Liverpool and have crossed this trestle several times, both driving and on horseback.

Mrs. McKenna testified as to being the wife of the injured man, Charles McKenna, and to the condition of his injured limb, from the time of the accident to the present writing.

Mrs. Braceland—I live near McKenna's, and was there the day Charley was injured. For several months he was confined to the house and suffered terribly, and for several months afterward he was unable to walk without crutches.

Patrick McKenna, father of Charles, testified as to the extent of his son's injuries.

City Clerk Hanley, of East Liverpool, was put on the stand and testified as to the city council proceedings and resolutions, which tended to show that the land purchased, upon which to construct this bridge, was bought for public purposes, and for use as a public highway. The resolutions of council were read by Attorney Smith, and admitted in evidence. An objection was made, to show that when the bridge was constructed, a demand was made of the city of East Liverpool, by Albert Johnson for the sum of $1,800, as their share of the bridge, and that this offer was rejected as unreasonable. The court objected to this being admitted upon the record.

Mr. Roberts—Reside in Jethro. On the afternoon McKenna was injured, I was on the trestle and went up on the track and rode down. The car jumped the track when coming at the rate of 50 miles an hour; no one was controlling it.

Mrs. Stanley testified to the condition of the car and the rate of speed.

Mr. Mackail, who was then city solicitor of East Liverpool, testified to the proceedings relative to the city's interest in the bridge. The testimony of this witness was principally ruled out, as being incompetent.

The prosecution rested its case with the testimony of Doctor Moore.

Dr. F. F. Moor, of Lisbon, testified that he had examined the foot of Charles McKenna some time during the past year, and gave testimony as to the extent of the injuries. He stated that paralysis of a group of muscles in the foot had been caused and all the bones in the instep of the foot have been drawn out of position by this. Nothing can be done with the foot now. He further stated that he could not now say whether anything could have been done before or not.

The two actions brought by Mear Bros., of East Liverpool, against I. N. Crable, to recover on four promissory notes, amounting to $294.02, were brought to the common pleas court last evening. These actions were brought before Squire Morley Sept. 29, and were by him dismissed.

Judge Blandin, for the defense, made a motion that the case be terminated and a verdict given for the defendants. On the opening of court this afternoon, Judge Billingsley gave a lengthy decision on this motion, and the case was dismissed.

Owing to the absence of Albert Johnson, Cleveland, the case of the county commissioners against him, which was to have been called today, was continued to Dec. 26.

Mrs. Mary S. Zelly has filed a $5,000 damage suit against the village of Salineville, for injuries received by her through a fall in that place on Aug. 4, 1894. Mrs. Zelly is a cripple and walks with a crutch, and on the evening she was injured was returning from church, when her crutch went through an opening in the floor of the bridge, near city hall. The floor had for some time been in a bad condition, and the fall she received, being thrown violently, bruised and injured her about her right arm and shoulder, to such an extent that partial paralysis was caused, which is said to be of a permanent nature. She states that she has incurred expenses in the sum of $500 for board and nursing.

City Hall.

Thomas McClee and Dan Gourley were each fined $25 and costs today for being drunk and disorderly. Mrs. McClee appeared and paid her husband's fine, upon him taking a pledge not to touch a drop of liquor for one year. Gourley did not pay his fine and he, in company with Downard and Finn, will be taken to the workhouse tomorrow.

W. A. McGuire, a well known citizen of McKay, O., is of the opinion that there is nothing as good for children troubled with colds or croup as Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He has used it in his family for several years with the best results and always keeps a bottle of it in the house. After having a gripe he was himself troubled with a severe cough. He used other remedies without benefit and then concluded to try the children's medicine and to his delight it soon effected a permanent cure. Twenty-five and 50 cent bottles for sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

Broken Fetters.

The home talent temperance dramatic company are preparing a drama entitled "Broken Fetters." The play will be produced in the early part of December.

Henry Wilson, the postmaster at Welshon, Florida, says he cured a case of diarrhoea of long standing in six hours, with one small bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. What a pleasant surprise that must have been to the sufferer. Such cures are not unusual with this remedy. In many instances only one or two doses are required to give permanent relief. It can always be depended upon. When reduced with water it is pleasant to take. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.

For a pain in the side or chest there is nothing so good as a piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on over the seat of pain. It affords prompt and permanent relief and if used in time will often prevent a cold from resulting in pneumonia. This same treatment is a sure cure for lame back. For sale by A. H. Bulger, druggist.
